THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

The partnership of marriage is the great model of unity and love presented to us in this Sunday's readings. God is always faithful; we as human beings aren't always faithful. Let's pray for all those in loving relationships, especially married couples, that differences can be resolved and broken hearts healed.

Fr John

'Let the little children come to me; do not stop them; for it is to such as these that the kingdom of God belongs.'

Daylight Saving time commences this weekend. The Parish Office will be closed on Monday 7th October.

MONTH OF THE HOLY ROSARY

The month of October is dedicated to the Holy Rosary. According to an account by fifteenth-century Dominican, Alan de la Roch, Mary appeared to St. Dominic in 1206 after he had been praying and doing severe penances because of his lack of success in combating the Albigensian heresy. Mary praised him for his valiant fight and then gave him the Rosary as a mighty weapon, explained its uses and efficacy, and told him to preach it to others.

The Rosary had its origin in the liturgical mentality of former ages. Even at the present time it is called "Mary's Psalter." There still are Catholics who consider the 150 Hail Marys a substitute for the 150 psalms for those persons who neither have the time, the education, nor the opportunity to pray the Hours of the Divine Office. Thus "Mary's Psalter" is a shortened, simplified "breviary" — alongside the common Hour-prayer of the Church. (The Church's Year of Grace, Dr. Pius Parsch)

The Rosary is Christocentric setting forth the entire life of Jesus Christ, the passion, death, resurrection and glory. Of course, the Rosary honors and contemplates Mary too, and rightly so, for the same reason that the Liturgical Year does likewise: "Because of the mission she received from God, her life is most closely linked with the mysteries of Jesus Christ, and there is no one who has followed in the footsteps of the Incarnate Word more closely and with more merit than she." (142 Mediator Dei).

Meditation on this cycle of Joyful, Sorrowful, Glorious and Luminous Mysteries makes the Rosary not only "a breviary or summary of the Gospel and of Christian life," (Ingravescentibus malis) but also a compendium of the Liturgical Year. Therewith the Rosary stands revealed as a dynamic teacher and nurturer of Christian faith, morality, and spiritual perfection, fostering in various ways faith, hope, charity, and the other virtues, and mediating special graces, all to the end that we may become more and more like unto Christ. (Mariology, Juniper B. Carol, O.F.M.)

catholic mission

Reach out. Give life.

The readings for this weekend highlight the bond between man and woman and how, as part of God's plan, two individuals can become "one body". We can look to the symbolism of this union for a lesson in how to do Mission as well: the Church, here in the Diocese of Maitland-Newcastle, unites, through prayer and financial contribution, to support the Church in need, in countries such as Mongolia. This year, when the Catholic Mission appeal is conducted in your parish, on the weekend of World Mission Sunday (October 19/20), we ask that you will accept the call, for "two to become one", and unite with those overseas serving children-at-risk, along with the homeless and the hungry. We thank you, in anticipation, and pray that God will bless you for your generosity and compassion.

For more information about ways you can contribute to the vital, life-giving work supported by Catholic Mission, go to www.catholicmission.org.au and type the name Chuluunbaatar into the search bar.

To follow up Catholic Mission, about any aspect of its work or your support and contact details, please call the Diocesan Director in Maitland/Newcastle, David McGovern on 0431 481 731 or email him at dmcgovern@catholicmission.org.au

REFLECTION BY RICHARD LEONARD

During World War II, Mary was one of hundreds of Australian women who fell in love with an American soldier. She married her Episcopalian Army Major at the side altar in a Catholic Church in 1945. By the time it came for him to return to Philadelphia in 1946, they were expecting their first child.

Upon arrival at her new home Mary found that her brave soldier was not as fearless as she thought. He was completely dominated by his mother who made it clear from the beginning that she opposed the marriage. Mary's life in the family home was a nightmare. The tensions boiled over when Brendan was born. Regardless of the promises made in Australia to have their children baptised Catholics, the soldier waged no war against his mother who declared that if any grandchild of hers was baptised a 'papist' she would disinherit the three of them. He buckled under the maternal pressure and demanded that Brendan be baptised an Episcopalian. Mary was devastated. She gathered her few possessions together, had her son baptised a Catholic and fled home.

In 1950, by now a divorcee, she met Maurice, a wonderful man who wanted to marry her and be a father to Brendan. When they went to see the local parish priest, he told them they could not be married in the Church and if they contracted a civil marriage they ran the risk of going to hell for eternity. They were tough days. Her Catholicism was one of the reasons Mary left the USA. In turn, the very Church she defended shut her out.

In today's Gospel, Jesus speaks directly about marriage and divorce. In Jesus' day few women had rights before the law. Only wealthy women from the priestly families could divorce their husbands. The vast majority of women were seen as possessions of their husband. A husband could draw up a divorce writ for any reason he wished and so force his wife out of their home into destitution or humiliate her by sending her back to her own family. No wonder Jesus lays down the law so strongly about fidelity and commitment. His new interpretation of the Law of Moses defended women's rights to dignity and security.

Every Catholic parish today has active parishioners who are divorced and remarried. In the face of the negative messages you hear, I want you to know how much we admire your often heroic faith, how much God loves you and how grateful we are that you hang in here with us. The problem for the Church is that, on the one hand, we want to keep affirming the permanence of married love, and yet, on the other hand, we have an increasing number of Catholics who are divorcing. We are caught between the fine ideal Jesus teaches and the frail human condition we all carry in different ways.

The Church's remedy to marriage breakdown is an annulment. An annulment is not a Catholic divorce. A civil divorce says the parties that were married are not now. An annulment says that there were factors, often unknown to the couple on the day, which meant that there was never a full and true Christian marriage in the first place. The sacrament is therefore null and void.

Some Catholics cannot face up to the long, complex and legal process involved in an annulment. It can be a traumatic experience. Others argue that the Church might step away from the more recent legal approach to dealing with marriage and, like the Orthodox Churches, use the Sacrament of Penance to nullify the Sacrament of Marriage. Whatever of the process, Christian teaching on this issue must always be metered with compassion.

From 1951 until 1993 Mary and her second husband did not receive the Sacraments. She started annulment proceedings in 1990. In 1993 they received communion for the first time in 42 years. God had never moved away from them, embracing them in his arms, laying his hands on them every day and blessing them. It is to human, frail and open hearts that the Kingdom of God belongs.

GOSPEL FOCUS LIKE A LITTLE CHILD

Most of us at some time or another have been told to 'grow up'; 'stop acting like a child'; or to 'act your age'. It implies that, as we grow older, we have to behave in a more 'responsible' or 'mature' way than when we were children. Jesus turns this on its head and tells us that unless we 'welcome the kingdom like a little child' we will never enter it. The gospels are full of stories about people who call on God's mercy because they recognise that without God they are nothing. When they subsequently receive God's mercy or healing they welcome it all the more – like a little child.

THE CHUCKLE

Farmer Jones lived in the countryside alone except for his dog. His pet died and Farmer Jones went to the local parish priest saying, "Father, my dog is dead. Could you possibly do a service for this poor creature?"

The priest told the farmer "No, we can't have services for an animal in the church, but I'll tell you what, there's a new denomination down the road and maybe they'll do something for the animal." Farmer Jones said, "I'll go right away. By the way, do you think $10,000 is enough for a good service?"

The priest replied, "Why didn't you tell me your dog was Catholic?"
